What can be achieved by having ISO 9001:2008

- Recognition that your quality system is accredited to UKAS (United Kingdom Accreditation Service), beware of non accredited bodies.
- Increased customer recognition as well as buyer confidence from potential customers.
- Reduced waste, time raw material, energy etc.
- Improved levels of team performance and individual accountability.
- Improved supplier performance and accountability
- Improved understanding of customer requirements

ISO9001 made easy! / DATech 9001

A low cost means of achieving UKAS accredited ISO 9001:2008 certification. The ISO made easy concept using DATech 9001 means the minimum of bureaucracy replaced by a proven lean electronic quality system designed to meet the requirements of ISO 9001:2008. We are able to offer the best product in its class at the lowest comparable cost.

DATech made easy – Development

- DATech made easy was designed as a package for the rubber roller industry following a brief from a key player in the UK and European roller industry.
- The brief asked DAT Performance Consulting & Rollertech to come up with a cost effective means of making ISO9001 quality management, easy.
- The past approach to quality had focused more on the process of satisfying the certification body with paper work, as opposed to focusing on improving the business of producing and servicing rollers.
- Through the DATech 9001 – ISO made easy approach, Certification is now maintained and enhanced through genuine improvements in quality, service, sales and profit.
